25X1 ** [redacted] Comment. The information refers to the large Soviet motor 25X1 vehicle spare parts and tire depot of the GOFG [redacted] on the 25X1 premises of the former Schwarzkopf Werke. [redacted]
25X1 The transfer of the tire depot was already reported [redacted]
25X1 however, with the new location to be Cottbus. [redacted]
25X1 [redacted] it is now believed that the entire installation was to be 25X1 moved to the area of Fuerstenwalde. The Schwarzkopf Werke in Wildau 25X1 will probably resume the construction of locomotives, railroad cars, and machinery.

*** [redacted] Comment. The former Pintsch Company in Fuerstenwalde was previously reported to already house a large tank and gun maintenance shop. The former Deutsche Kabelwerke (Deka) in Ketschendorf near Fuerstenwalde, where a large distribution point for weapons and equipment has been located to date, may have also been chosen to house the Soviet motor vehicle spare parts and tire depot from Wildau. - The following observations were made in Camp Werdor-Markendorf near Jueterbog (N 52/E 07) between 27 July and 3 August 1951:

Section 11. Motor vehicles mounting AA machine guns, 4 AF guns, and trucks all returned from a field exercise on 23 July. About 400 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets and equipped with six machine guns assembled for a night exercise on 2 August.

Section 12. About 150 troops were seen receiving instruction on 23 July. Two T-34/85 tanks were under repair. One officer and 8 NCOs received radio instruction. Trucks left for the training area on 25 July with each truck being occupied by 14 soldiers who wore red-bordered black epaulets. About 90 officers were briefed opposite the headquarters building and subsequently walked to the mess building on 27 July. Nineteen T-34/85 tanks covered with canvas were parked in the parking lot.

One hundred soldiers organized into groups of ten were seen undergoing basic training and combat practice.

Section 13. About 150 troops wearing tank insignia and equipped with submachine guns left for the training area on 31 July.

Section 14. About 150 soldiers, including some with tank insignia, left for combat practice on 31 July. Five JS-3 tanks left the section on 3 August, probably for practice firing. *

- On 3 August, about 250 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets were seen marching out of the Fuchsborg Kaserne, Jueterbog, probably for night exercise. The unit returned on the morning of 4 August.

- In the afternoon of 24 July, a convoy of seven trucks towing six guns, probably 70.2-mm AF guns, was seen on route toward Luckenwalde. Each truck carried about eight soldiers who wore red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. **

- On 23 July, one platoon each was engaged in instruction, map reading and practice firing at Damm airfield near Jueterbog. Four motor vehicles towing 76.2-mm model 1943 infantry guns returned to the airfield quarters from the field and subsequently left toward Kapran (N 52/E 69) on 28 July. One platoon practiced with 85-mm model 1939 or 1944 AA guns on 30 July. Fifteen motor vehicles, * [redacted] Comment. The numbered camp sections are keyed to a sketch which was attached to a previous report. [redacted] According to the present report, Camp Werder-Markendorf still quartered component units of the 6th Gds Tank Div by 3 August 1951. Sections 11 through 14 are believed to be occupied by the three medium and the heavy tank regiments of the 6th Gds Tank Div. [redacted] The present report indicates no changes regarding the operation of the sections.

** [redacted] Comment. [redacted] the convoy belongs to the [redacted] AT Arty Brig, possibly the 4th, of the IV Arty Corps.

*** [redacted] Comment. The 47th Gds Mecz Regt of the 14th Gds Mecz Div, which, among other units, is believed to be stationed at Damm airfield, seemed to have been at its post by the end of July 1951. [redacted] The statement in the present report that 85-mm AA guns were observed constitutes an indication as to the location there of the 2497th AAA Regt of the 14th Gds Mecz Div.
